accomplished? Nothing. Almost every thing has remained stagnant which is pretty good remain friends for a long long time.

Next year lets sign up for some classes together cuz its alot funnier & better w/ you in my class. This summer we have to go bike-riding to the windhammer & go to the beach & fall all over the floor pretending to be tripping. We have also got to go to the Mall & pick fights w/ all the local bangers down there. Lets also get a few good terrorizes going see ya this summer.

Love ya always class this year hope I see you later.

PS. don't forget to buy a ring you "drip"

moving from deafening sound to a sudden silence i was emerging from the drama of life.

curving towards an amazing strength we emerged victorious over existence.

any~ you've been good funny friend & your friendship means a lot to me I hope we can have more times like the gossation (white can) surrounding a void

 I found a small awareness of new experience.

(P.S. tell your mother I said get new spots)

the frozen one wanders toward the sun
i can see his changes in so many ways.

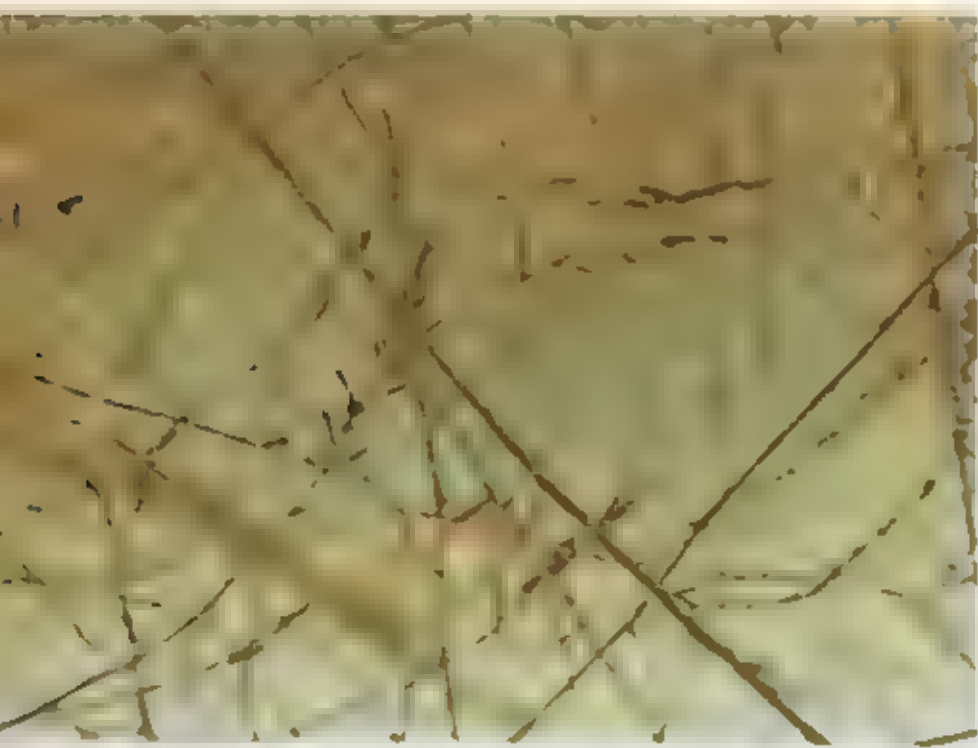

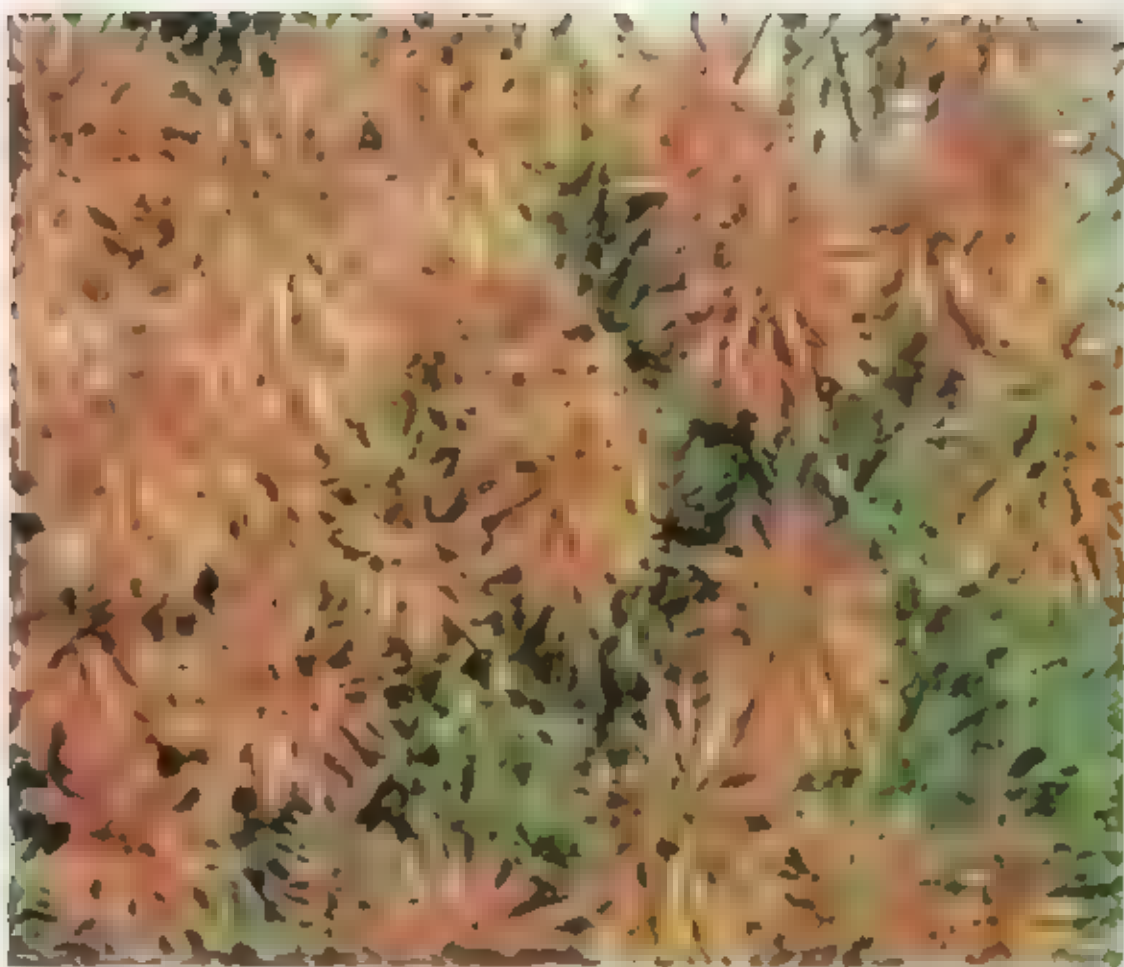

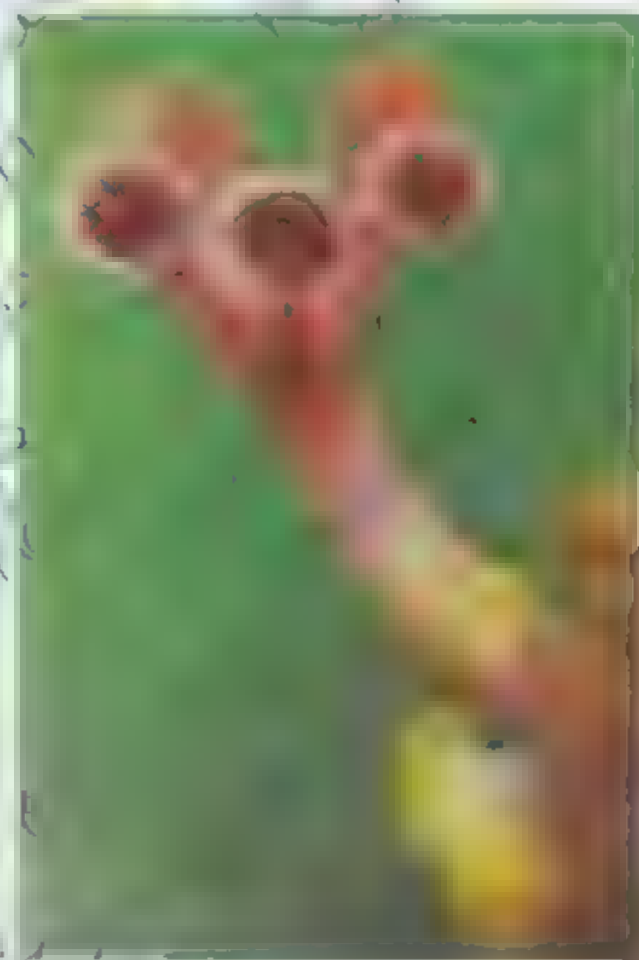

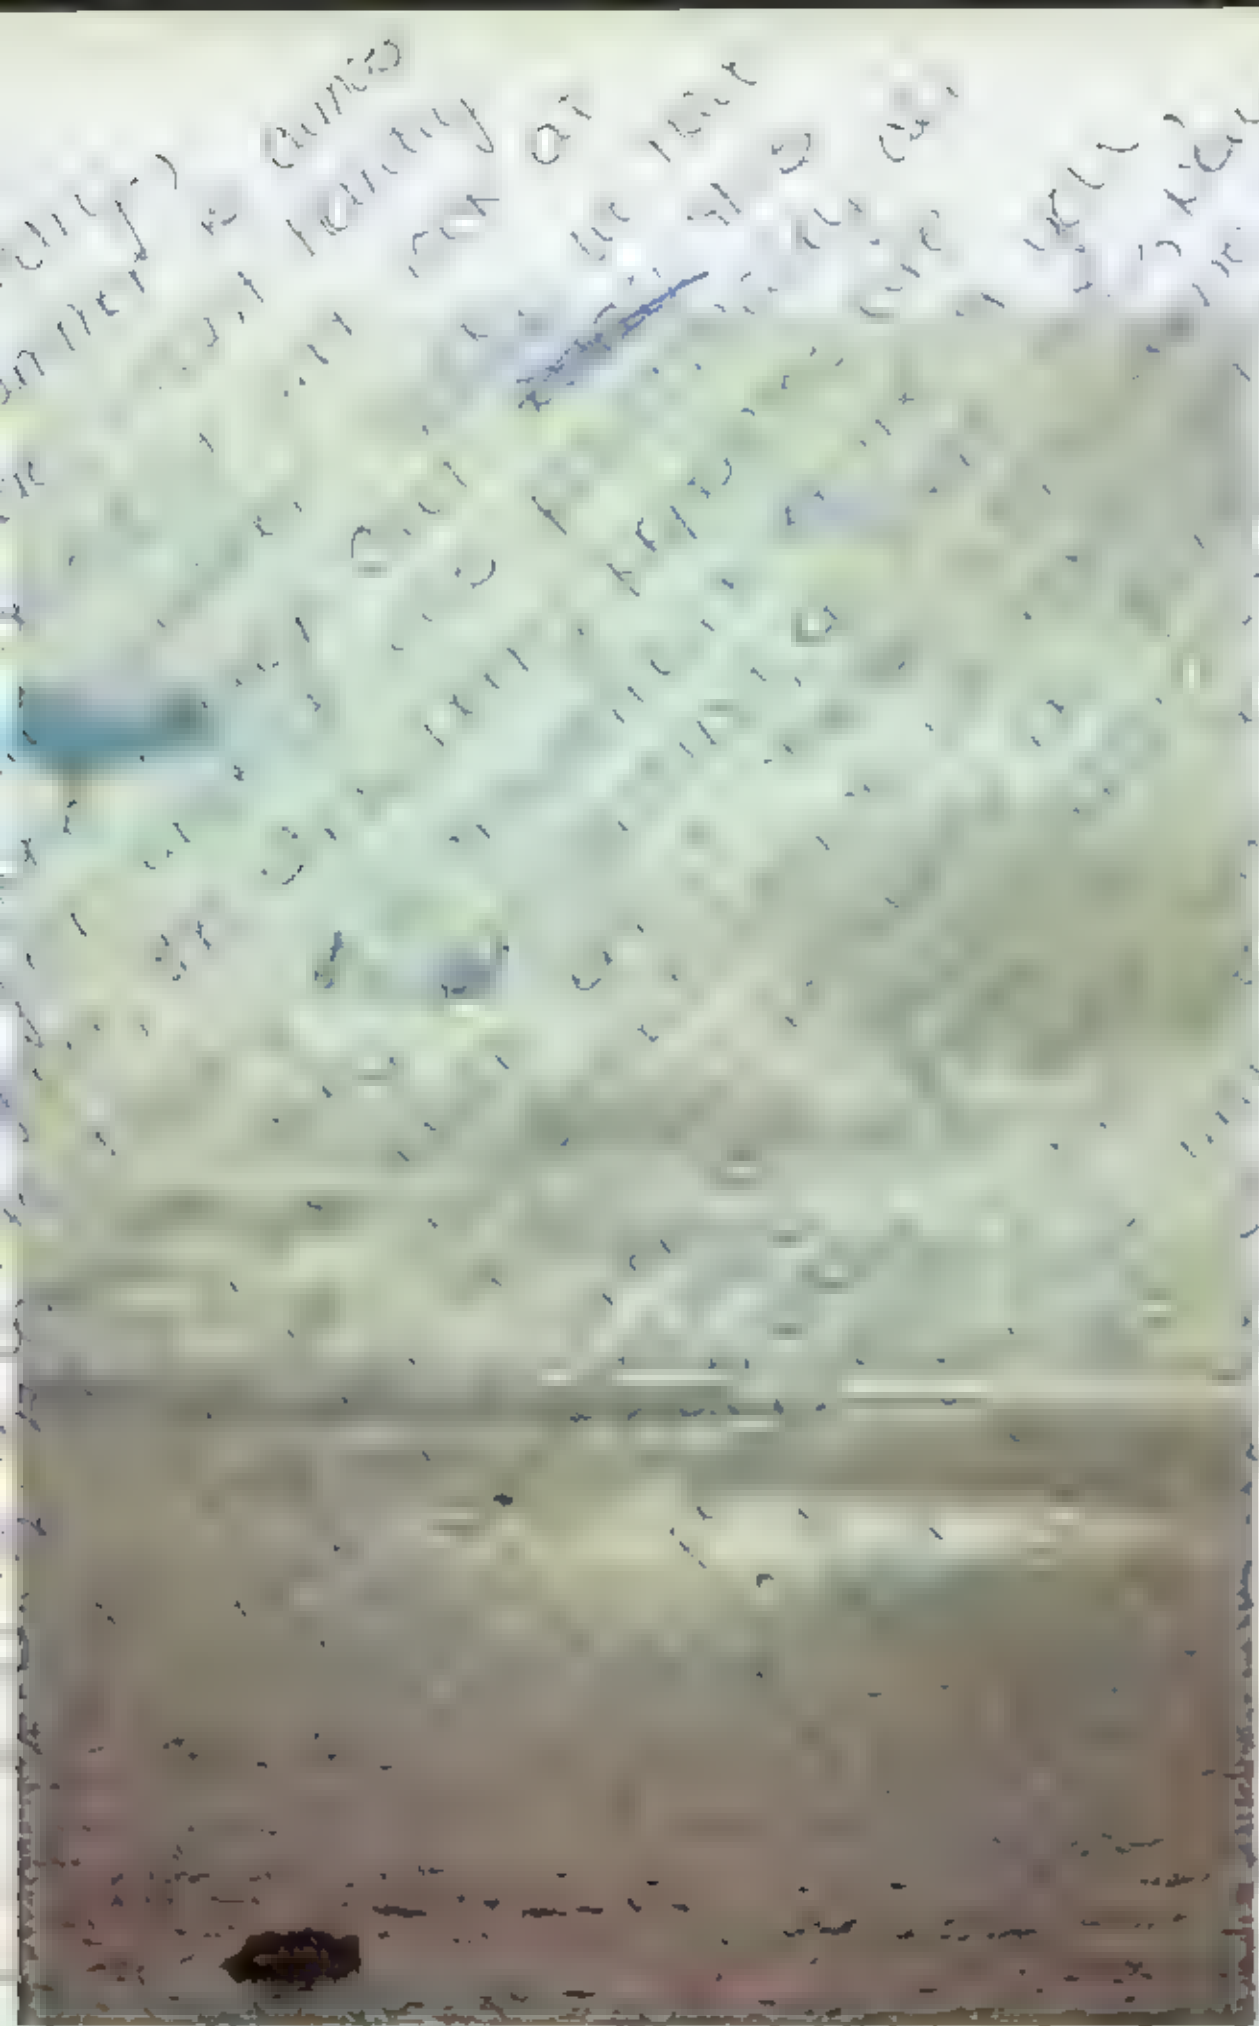

i learned of people and of places and of new ways in this vastness of education by fading into a constantly shifting complex succession of things seen or imagined

i found myself

sliding from fantasy into reality
i realized that the world turns quickly.

Mary,
I had a fun year at P.V.H.S. I hope your year was as good as mine. Even tho you do like velvet cheese you are a good kid. I Don't need to bid my goodbyes because I know you'll be around at the beach.

Love lots

District Administration

Way in the night, when the lights are out, who do you think is still up and about?

The District Administration vetos proposals and passes ideas

A miniature government with one central body, who's decisions could possibly change the pattern of our school life.

Classes to be, or not to be,
that is a question.

An open campus, pay raise, tax raise—what complicated questions
they must answer

LEFT Mr. David Miller (Assistant Superintendent of Educational Administration) Mr. James Crockett (Assistant Superintendent/Business) and Mrs. Lucile Crain (Special Assistant/Instructional Improvement) discuss future monetary allotments to special programs

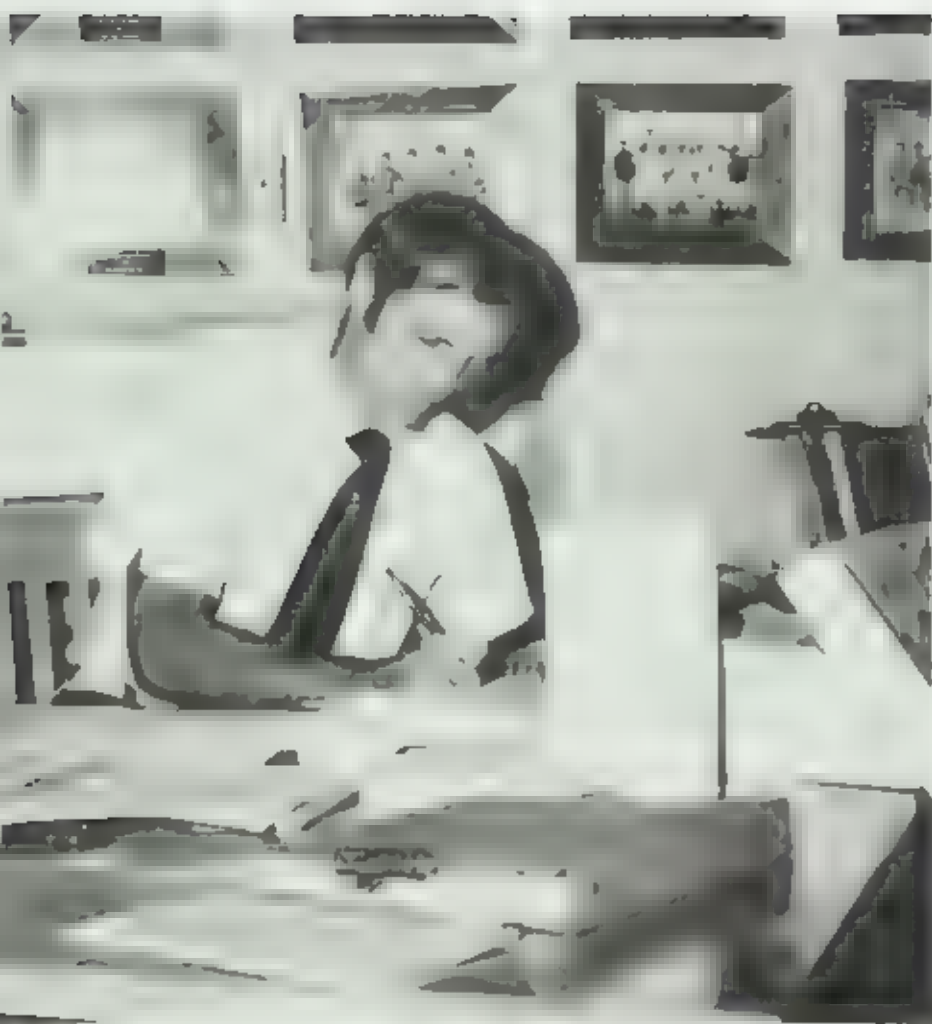

AS CHIEF ADMINISTRATOR of Palos Verdes High School, Principal Edward C. Moore has numerous responsibilities relating to every aspect of school management. He oversees all school operations, some of which include handling discipline problems, constructing a budget, evaluating teachers and conferring with parents.

The Administration, our overseers, keeping watch over the flock making sure that none stray away Keeping law and order among one and all Creating rules and regulations,
so that all may benefit.
We, like an experiment, are mice conditioned to work at the sound of a bell. One bell to get out of class, another to resume work. But this experiment comes out right in the end, graduation, or in the animal world,
the mouse escapes.

"Please, just a little cough drop! I promise, I'm not addicted!" and other such quaint requests were heard daily by personnel in the Health Office

Not to be forgotten are the heroic performances put in by counselors, and office staffs, for courageous upholding of stations

A not so hysterical form of office work was admirably executed by the staff of the Attendance office

And finally, students appreciated the availability of a Student Store.

Groundsmen, Cafeteria

An important part of school has always been the food department and school maintenance. To fill these roles were the cafeteria employees and the groundsmen

Selling quantities of candy, cookies and cokes, the Snack Bar exhausted its supply; students battled in the cafeteria to secure 55¢ lunches, among other things

And diligent work was put in by the Groundsmen, retrieving any and all unidentified lying objects

Where did you learn daily of other countries—whether you wanted to or not? The secrets of German, Spanish and French customs were revealed constantly—during periods one through six—familiarizing students with a people

After months of laborious efforts students enrolled in Technical Arts classes gratefully reaped the benefits of their work

Conjuring up concoctions to tantalize the tastebuds, creative cookery is in the minds of the students. Recipes and rules, teaspoons and oven temperatures were gladly followed by the unwieldy and unknowing student. But nothing is perfect. Senior Class concludes exciting year

The spirit and enthusiasm of the Senior Class was exemplified by the superbly built Senior Float entitled "The Sting." The precision built structure easily won first place. Energy from the Seniors, however, was not only released during Homecoming, but also at such functions as the highly successful Senior Show and the spiritually rewarding Cans-for-Kids drive.

Aside from the usual activities and privileges bestowed upon Seniors, the Class of 1975 was given the option of taking second semester Physical Education as an elective. This enabled Seniors to broaden their schedules.

The Seniors of 1975 celebrated their graduation from High School by following such traditions as the Junior-Senior Prom, the Senior Mother's Tea, Senior Day, Baccalaureate and Graduation exercises, and Disneyland Grad Night.

St. Nicholas (1811-1891) by William Merritt Chase, 1884, oil on canvas, 100 x 120 cm, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City. The painting depicts a young boy in a red robe, holding a book, standing in a room with a fireplace and a window. The boy is looking towards the viewer with a slight smile. The background is a simple, warm-toned interior.

Every year the junior class holds a car wash. This year was no exception. Juniors washed with TLC (tender loving care) the many cars which entered the confines of the senior parking lot.

Also the Class of '76 held a bake sale. Pies, cakes and cookies were laboriously baked, and sold at Moore's Market in Malaga Cove. This money will go towards the financing of the Junior-Senior Prom which is held each year.

Float building also occupied much time in the lives of the Junior class. The theme for this year's float was M*A*S*H and featured a hand mashing the Rolling Hills football team. The juniors worked very hard

SOPHOMORES

Starting off the year with great enthusiasm, the Sophomore class entry in the Homecoming Float contest placed second. The theme, "Ship of Fools" featured the "SS Titanic" as it hits an iceberg crowned accordingly in red, white and black.

Preparations for the annual Soph Doll Stomp, the main fund-raising event, kept Sophomores busy, as profits from concession sales during athletic events provided a secondary source of increasing the class' treasury. Commenting on the Sophs' steady participation, Sophomore Class President Jodi Goetz stated, "The class, as individuals, were truly united

Under the sponsorship of Mary Markytan and Gary Hale, the Freshmen relinquished their title of "Newcomers" as they became involved with class activities and learned of the many facets of high school. The class proved to be unified and produced huge turnouts at all meetings Activities provided something for everybody. Bake sales, concessions, a car wash and dance acted as fund raisers as float-building and carnival participation aroused more excitement

President Melissa Decker stated, "We have made a great effort and will be remembered as a great class

Student participation proves interest

The Class of '75 selected "The Sting" as its float theme and won the float competition for the first year. "M*A*S*H," "Ship of Fools" and

"Born Losers," were the other popular movie titles carried out by the Junior, Sophomore and Freshmen Class floats, respectively

A slow bicycle race, saw horse race, pillow fight, rooster crowing contest, grape eating contest and Kan Kan competition were some of the activities sponsored to promote spirit during the week.

A water balloon toss, planking and shoe races, yelling contest and the traditional parade of floats and princesses were held Friday, just a few hours before the varsity football team's victory over Rolling Hills High School, 10-3.

Judy Salter leads flaxen-haired five

To carry out the Homecoming theme of "That's Entertainment," the multi-purpose room's walls were decorated with posters of movies and their stars which complemented the formal theme of "The Premier." A many faceted globe of mirrors reflected light throughout the room causing the randomly placed stars to have a twinkling effect.

Prior to the formal, the football, water polo and cross country teams with the Assembly selected a total of eighteen Homecoming queen candidates. This group was narrowed down to five by judges at the Homecoming Tea. The girls were rated in three areas: beauty, poise and personality.

Finalists were formally presented to the entire student body for a vote. The mystery ended when Judy Salter received her bouquet of roses and was crowned by ASB President Steve Longley as the 1974-75 Homecoming Queen.

South Pacific staged by peninsula personnel

After weeks of rehearsal, more than 200 peninsula students performed in the Broadway musical "South Pacific" under the direction of Mr. Phil Nash. John Hogue played Emil D'Beque, a french planter; Sally D'Evelyn starred as Nellie, a nurse in the navy; Tony Galleran portrayed Lt. Cable, a lieutenant in the navy; Brent Shaphren played Cmdr. Brackett, a commander in the navy; Lori Carle appeared as Bloody Mary, a native of Bali Hai and trader of island goods with the military.

Highlighting the show was the song "Some Enchanted Evening." Vocal numbers included "Nothing Like A Dance" and "Wash That Man Right Out'a My Hair." Mr. Don Marino conducted the orchestra while Mr. Gary McRoberts conducted the choral segments of the show.

Leadership camp keeps new government alive

A group of Palos Verdes High School students trucked up toward Camp Cumorah Crest in the San Bernadino Mountains with a purpose to fulfill when they arrived — to plan out the 1974-75 activities and to familiarize members of the new student government with each other and their responsibilities. They spent most of their time brainstorming for ideas for themes, concerts, Creative Thought Day and the general improvement of the system. This trip has become an annual event.

Getting into the season of things, many students attended the Christmas Formal. This Girls' League sponsored event was held according to the theme of "A Christmas Carol."

Drama III revives 'You Can't Take It With You'

The first major production put on by Drama III, was the fall musical, "You Can't Take it With You." Under the direction of Mr. Phil Nash, and with the help of the stagecraft crew, the Drama III class put on a superb performance.

The musical concerned a family living in the 30's or 40's and all the crazy things that went on in their household

The main characters in the play were: Grandpa, played by Bruce Hale, and Penny Sycamore, played by both Danese Cocke and Jane Shulman.

Grandpa is the type of person who makes firecrackers, goes to commencement exercises at college and hasn't paid his income tax since 1915. And last but not least is Mrs. Penny Sycamore, who spends her time writing plays

Some of Palos Verdes High School's best talent turned out to audition for the chance to give a good time to students of Harlan Shoemaker, a school in San Pedro for mentally and physically handicapped children, ranging in age from 2-13 years

The show consisted of a series of short skits, acts and musical performances organized by Melinda Smith and Barb May. Nineteen acts were chosen by the Assembly to appear in the show. Some of the acts chosen were a juggling act, a Rag Doll Ballet, a skit called the "Christmas Present" and one titled "The Grinch That Stole the Magic Chevy

Of course Santa Claus was there. He was played by our own jolly, Mr. Ed Moore. Students served refreshments to the children and concluded with an hour of playtime.

The annual Donkey Basketball game ended with another faculty victory, 50-44. The Lettermen's sponsored event produces funds for Special Olympics and the purchase of athletic equipment

One half of the game was played by girls from the pep squad and female faculty members, while the second half involved a clash between Lettermen and male faculty members. The rules of the game were that players remain seated on their donkeys when passing and shooting

By racking up eight points in the first half, coach Peter Fawaz earned the title of high scorer. Other faculty contributors included coach John Barr and coach Joe Kelly. The students held on with the help of Paul Sweeney, Bernie Lyons and Marina Schiff Storybook Theater, presented by all drama classes, was an improvisational production presented on ten Thursday afternoons throughout the year.

The stories were performed for kindergarten and elementary school children for their entertainment. Students relayed original stories of their own, assuming many different character roles. The production included fairy tales and fables such as "Rapunzel," "Hanzel and Gretel," and a satire on "The Three Little Pigs."

The spring musical, "Oklahoma!," was presented by the Performing Arts Department on three successive weekends in February and March. Director Phil Nash was assisted by instrumental music director Don Marino, choral director Gary McRoberts and technical director Chip Hipkins. Mrs. Carolyn Babbidge choreographed the outstanding ballet and tap dance numbers.

The turn-of-the-century story focuses on cowboy hero Curly (Wade Reynolds) and farm girl heroine Laurey (Karen Denson). Other major characters were Jeff Roberts as Jud Fry, Danese Cocke and Peggy Lynch double cast as Ado Annie, Jane Schulman as Aunt Eller, Jeff Miller as Will Parker, Bruce Hale as Ali Hakim and Matt Cunningham as Andrew Carnes.

Juniors and seniors participated in the fifth annual Creative Thought Day, held March 12. Each student was able to attend five self-chosen seminars on special interests or careers. On the preceding day, upperclassmen completed packets containing information on the seminars.

Students visited demonstrations, speeches and discussions. Seminar topics included Chinese boxing, acupuncture, foreign affairs, ventriloquism, modeling, forestry, socialism, karate, law, electronic music, economics, endangered species, dance, rock 'n roll, transcendental meditation and television production. Popular among students was

"Olympics," a discussion by Olympic medalist Jim Slatton about the Olympic Games and the required training.

Mammoth mountain most popular Ski Club region

Because of last years difficulties arising from toking, rumors had it that a Ski Club could not exist this year. With the perseverance of former V.P. Rick Watts, a new constitution was developed to guarantee that toking would be totally minimized. The new constitution envisioned three equal chairmen: planning, business and publicity held by Rick Watts, Brian Leeper and Terrie Hawkins respectively

Four trips this year were arranged to Mammoth Mountain, however two were cancelled due to lack of funds. An excursion to Brian Head, Utah was also proposed, but fell through for lack of participation

Before a near sellout crowd of 1073 enthusiastic students, Flash Cadillac and the Continental Kids, a spirited fifties group, appeared in concert at PV in February. Two other groups the Chris Darrow Band and Forever, were also on the program

Flash Cadillac played familiar oldies such as "Rock Around the Clock," and "At the Hop, dressed in the typical fifties attire. They were a stage act as well as musicians. Instruments were played on the floor, upside down, and with their feet. Even the drums were modified, using a hubcap and a "Coors" beer can as rhythm producers

The event was sponsored by the Student Assembly with Steve Longley and Dan Gorham serving as chairmen. According to ASB President Steve Longley, the concert was a definite success as the consensus of the students was good

ORGANIZATIONS.

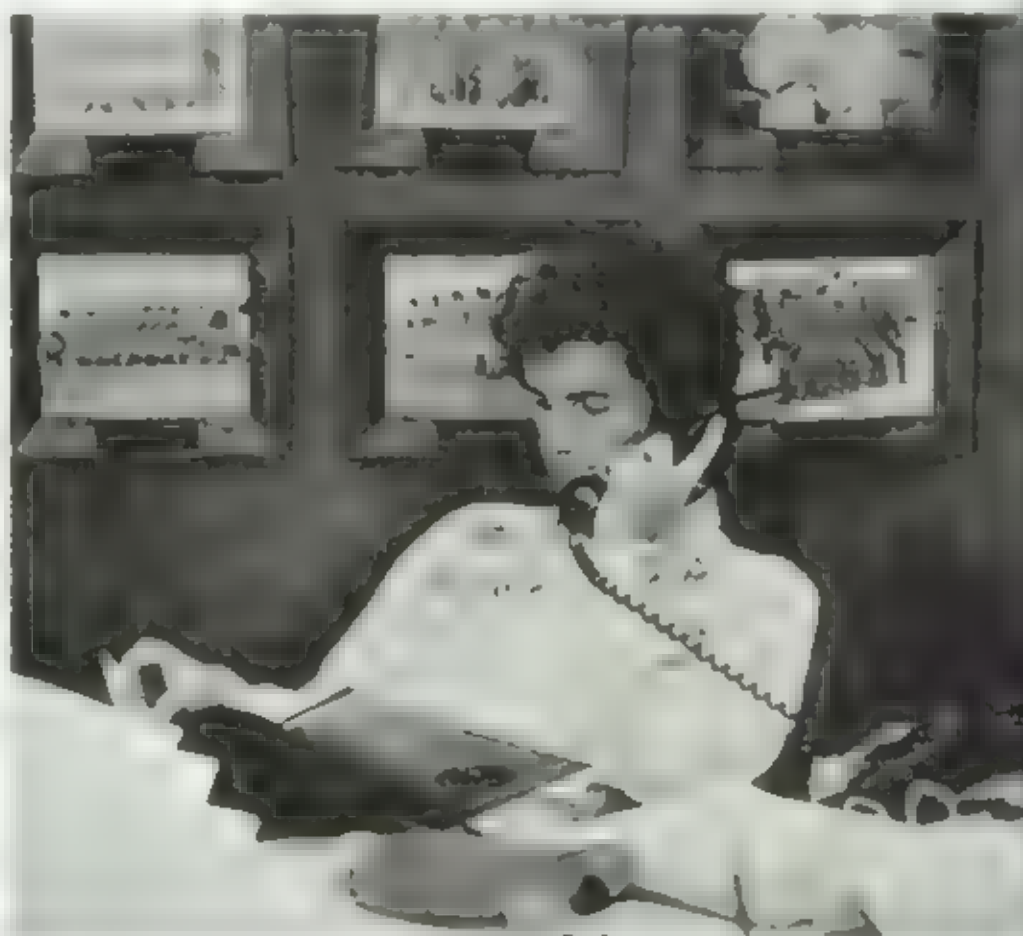

Led by the ASB officers, the Student Assembly is the voice of the student body at Palos Verdes High School. The Assembly plans all of the activities including such events as Homecoming, dances and the Christmas show at Harlan Shoemaker.

Through the sale of ASB books, the treasury money is spent toward activities, athletics and academics. The Assembly tries to balance expenditures between the three, so that every student and program benefits. Also, a Memorial Scholarship is awarded to a senior at the end of the year.

Proud to have been cited by KNX as "Citizens of the Week," the Student Body was also awarded the Vision Award last year, for outstanding service.

"The Student Curriculum Forum has been vitally concerned with the goal of improving the environment, the curriculum and the rights of students," stated Adviser Ronald Rudolph. The club worked on a student review questionnaire for the Guidance Program, a poll on smoking which was used in a letter to the State Board of Education and also planned Creative Thought Day. Chairman Dave Fritz commented, "This year's Curriculum Forum has been very active. We investigated a variety of educational issues and proposed several educational improvements for the high school."

Through many long hours of assembling the 1975 yearbook, the staff was able to meet all deadlines. "It's been a hectic year," stated Adviser Mr. Robert Schoenburg, "but all the time and effort put into the making of the '75 Triton was well worth it in order to produce such a fine yearbook." Editor-in-Chief Charlie Stuart added, "We excelled to be more creative in our presentation this year. With the use of more candid, we moved away from a classical approach."

The quality of the Palos Verdes High School Yearbook continues, as last year's book won first place in competition for general excellence at Pepperdine University.

Again this year, the Key Club had many activities, both for PVHS and our nearby areas. The club helped the school by cleaning up the benches, selling Christmas trees, buying gifts for children at the U.S.C. Medical Center and taking the San Pedro Boys Club on field trips. They participated in the Convention for Exceptional Children Lettermen's Club was also very active. They bought three pole vault poles and helped resurface the tennis courts for the school. They raised the money from the Donkey Basketball game, a dance and the popcorn and freezy machines. They also donated eight Saturdays to work with retarded children.

KEYETTES BARB CAMPBELL dressed in a white dress, smiling, holding a box of candy apples, as Mr. Fawaz takes a picture of the club members.

"Keyettes is a service club which serves people who need our help," commented President Dorothy Wooten. They proved this in many ways. They held a Halloween party for children of working parents, baked food for the Homecoming formal and gave two Christmas parties for poor children. Each member made stuffed animals which were distributed among the children. Keyettes also sponsored the successful drive for eye glasses for the organization New Eyes.

S' Club and Spartans also did many kinds of services, such as going to Toberman House to teach children dancing and sports, visiting rest homes and having bake sales.

The PV Marching Band and Attached Units, besides playing at football and basketball games, performed in many parades. Under the direction of Mr. Don Marino, the band came home with such honors as a first place trophy at Lomita, a third at Chino and the drums received a very good score at the Santa Monica El Primero Review. They also performed at Disneyland and participated in the May Time Band Review. To raise the money for their trips, they sold spook insurance at Halloween, had a car wash and a fruit cake and bake sale.

While providing enjoyment to students, the orchestra played at Harlan Shoemaker and performed with Long Beach Poly HS in a combined concert.

'Make a Joyful Sound,' suggests vocalists

CAPTURING THE MOOD OF THE SONG: Dawn Decker, Kathy Sepke and Sue Maughan sing out in a rehearsal for the annual Christmas concert.

Sun Machine, Chorale and A Cappella are honorary singing groups; acceptance of members is by auditions. The student must be able to read music and, of course, carry a tune!

Under the direction of Gary McRoberts the choral groups participated in choral concerts in both the fall and the spring.

"Make a Joyful Sound" was held December 12-13. Many Christmas songs were sung. During the concert, all groups performed. Each group has a different costume so anyone can identify each choral group. Every year they make different costumes.

Renaissance Singers, adorned in the garb of the 16th century, performed along with the other choral groups in concerts and contests

The Renaissance Singers sang all their songs in Latin. Many of the members are also in other choral groups as well

Mixed Choir is open to all students of each grade level. It is a "training ground" for future members of the more advanced choral groups

This is Gary McRoberts second year at PVHS. He directs all the choral groups during his busy day. We look forward to many more years of his faithful service in the many years to come

Singers express themselves musically

Madrigals, a vocal group open by audition to freshmen and sophomores, is directed by Mr. Gary McRoberts. Many of Madrigals members proceed to A Cappella, Sun Machine and Chorale which are also directed by McRoberts.

One of their performances was in "Make a Joyful Sound," which was presented by the entire music department on December 12 and 13. Girls' Ensemble, also under the direction of McRoberts, performed in the Christmas concert singing along with other vocal groups and as an individual group. They provided back up vocals for the finale, which included "Shepherd Me, Lord," as the last song of the evening.

Hollywood Bowl Dancers were, in one year, transformed from the average everyday type of 'clod' into "skilled, unique and interesting" jazz dance creators. To have these performances as near "perfection" as possible rewarding hours of rehearsal were spent on each movement

This was the Hollywood Bowl Dancers 10th year to perform in the Hollywood Bowl. This dance group has presently achieved the rating of "most appearances" at the Hollywood Bowl.

Money earned by the Hollywood Bowl Dancers is used for a number of things. They were mainly the cost of printing tickets, buying shoes and materials, and buying special types of leotards.

Orchesis distorts members in dance

Having twisted themselves into fetal positions, members of Orchesis gain time to look "reminiscently back" and discover a list of accomplishments.

Orchesis displayed its talent in a collage of ways; through competitions, invitations programs, and an annual 'dance concert.

From some of the performances, Orchesis acquired a "bank account" to be used for operational purposes and scholarships for the students.

One of the purposes of Orchesis is to defeat uncoordination; i.e.: to increase "skill, grace and charm." Another goal is to nurture a genuine interest in dance.

In his first year at PVHS, the 1972 U.S. water polo goalie, James Slatton, coached his JV team to a second place berth in league with a 3-1 record and 12-5 overall. Coach Slatton stated that his team "had some tough breaks" as illustrated by the game against their "strongest competition," Beverly Hills, where the game went into double overtime finding PV down by one at the buzzer. In the pool the team received its leadership from Most Valuable Player Mitch Lee. Further strength was drawn from juniors James Kruger, Kevin Walt, and Rick Spurgeon.

Coach Doug Martin again showed his talent for training future Varsity stars by guiding his Frosh-Soph team to a record not unlike that of the JV team. They placed second in league with a 3-1 record and 12-3 overall. A combination of the shooting abilities of high scorer Matt Bark and Craig Turner plus split second reactions by goalie Bob Spears lead the offense. there would never be enough room to thank the TRITON '75 staff completely. you all know who you are and what you have done to create this publication. as time goes on, and it surely does, you will be able to pick up this book, and each one of you may say, "i made this possible" remember the fun times—working after school and on weekends trying to meet deadlines? or hunting for grease pencils? i'm sure there was someone who devoured each one that could be located remember queebe sheet hunts? no one ever seemed to know where it was. i'll never forget the looks we got from outsiders who ventured in and heard us talking about queebes, smues and fonts

remember the humans who dropped in to visit us, and walked—no crawled out with nervous breakdowns. what about the musical stomach game? the loudest growler got to be fed first. then there was yearbook publication vocabulary which consisted, mainly, of one sentence, "i dunno!" so much has happened, so many zekenoid maneuvers, and not only plain zekes, but double, triple and quadruple zekes were pulled there isn't enough time to go into all of the things we've done or fun that we've had, but i know you'll never forget what has probably been the most entertaining year of your lives. you have created the TRITON '75
